-Adam, i feel that I am speaking for a number of people in laund rd who can not be bothered to speak up in support of the lidl at the spotted cow , let's not waste every one's time again saying that its not to be when 90% of sally nook and district carnt wait for it to go ahead ,, every thing about the proposal is positive and will be a plus for the area,,,,, and replace the eyesore that has stood there for the last few years, (lets not have another castle hill please) so get the ball rolling this time please, and stop messing around,,,,or are we going to have another pound shop or a betting shop or maybe a few more houses to clog the place up
