Hi,

I am writing this email to fully support Lidl's plans for a new foodstore on New Hey Road. I am doing this for three reasons:

- 1) There is little competition in this area, apart from Sainsbury's, which I find quite expensive to shop in,
- 2) The pandemic has highlighted the need for shopping for essential goods to be situated in local areas, rather than town centres, in order to reduce the amount of travelling.,
- 3) Surely, considering the environment is in such a mess, we should at all times do all we can to limit our travel on polluting buses/cars.

I hope you take the above into consideration.
