As a resident living near to the proposed Lidl store on New Hey road I strongly support this plan. I like many elderly people in this area (I'm 73 and live on pension credit) need a more value for money store than presently available. At the moment I save at least £6 per week by not shopping at local stores but need to go by bus to Lidl on Wakefield road. I could walk to the new store. Anything which reduces transport use at this time and in the future would be an advantage. I also strongly support Lidl's employment policy of no zero hours contracts and a good hourly rate of pay. We need jobs like this.

Sincerely
