Dear Sir

I write to object to the planning application for the proposed Lidl store to be built on New Hey Road.

As a local person living close within this area, I feel strongly that we do not need another food store as we already have Sainsbury's close by and I understand that Aldi are also building at this location. What would another budget food store bring to the area may I ask? If anything, I feel that another housing estate would be beneficial to this location.

I hope that this application is refused on the grounds that there is no such need for another supermarket.

Yours faithfully
